A little cloudy in the bottle. Closed like a beer bottle. At opening the bottle makes a sound like tschhhhhhh....

The Entertainer

In 2020 during the first lockdown the idea came up to bottle a still fermenting Pinot blanc as a PétNat. To me, Heidi, this term said nothing. But my sons being trained and educated in many countries and wineries knew this funky sparkling wine.

A few weeks after bottling, when the fermentation was finished we had this new sparkling star at the start and it was Everybody's darling from scratch.

The light mousseux and bright Pinot -fruitiness makes it an adorable companion at the pool, at the grill, at the picnic.
