La Cabeza de Perro is a wine meant to be shared and enjoyed, that last in the glass time enough for conversation leading to ask for a refill. It is a traditional Bierzo white wine combining the most cultivated white varieties on very old vineyards from the Southeast part of Bierzo, that enjoys a fresher climate and receives less sun radiation.

Harvested mid September, grapes are picked manually and sent to the winery in 15Kg cases where it is pressed and after decanting the solids is put to ferment spontaneously by its natural yeasts in a French oak vat. After completing alcoholic fermentation it is put to rest on its lees for 8 months in steel vats and oak casks. Bottled in June 2021.
